Moments
they are are gone
noticed before

To grow and learn and love were the opportunities our years at Riverside High offered us. Although the way was rough, the students merged into daily living and discovered that life consisted of mixed emotions. We cease to look back on the needless occurrences and forgotten happenings of our days. Then all too soon these moments are gone before they are noticed. However, if we happen to recall these incidents perhaps it would strike a beautiful note and all our melancholy tears would change to searching smiles.

A man with dark hair and glasses, wearing a white lab coat over a dark shirt, is seated at a laboratory bench. He is looking down at a piece of equipment, possibly a microscope or a small apparatus. On the bench, there is a large glass bottle, some papers, and other lab equipment. The background is slightly blurred, showing more of the lab environment.

Daily Activities

The opening of each day at Riverside High School brought forth many incidents which we let slip through our fingers unrecognized. Drowsily listening to morning announcements, racing against masses of people for a cafeteria seat, and shoving across the hall to the water fountain all seemed so insignificant yet was something each one of us had experienced at one time or another. Each instance too, in its own way, contributed to our maturity in living while in return we were to give a small piece of ourselves.

Each book, locker, and person, was a part of this life at Riverside, yet not all were remembered or even noticed. Moments are gone before they are noticed, for we unknowingly consented to let the learning from these previous happenings drift away.

A drowsy Jim Bingle stepped off the school bus in anticipation of another day at Riverside.

Anxious students filed off the school bus and entered through the main lobby.

Beth Peebles exited her bus carrying a paper bag full of surprises.

All aboard for RHS!

Catching the bus in the morning presented a challenge to most people. Once on board some students had the opportunity to finish that morning's interrupted dream. Others worried about their history assignment back home on the kitchen table. Upon arrival to the school the bus was emptied and students prepared to face the busy day ahead.

Just inside the main lobby was the office where teachers checked their mailboxes daily. Mr. DiConstanzo, Mrs. Kalcevic.

Sally Minter was kept busy in the attendance office keeping up with the arrival of late students.

The function of the teachers' mailbox was to receive or discharge important news to the teachers each morning.

The main lobby was the center of each morning's activities. It was a place for taking care of business for most people.

Whether it was checking in at the attendance office or just talking to a friend, this was the ideal place for it. The main lobby was also a friendly place where students could wait for their friends or join the gang in conversation on the way to homeroom. Others would just sit and observe the arrival of teachers and classmates. These and other happenings proved the main lobby to be an important place to stop each morning at Riverside.

At the far end of the main lobby stood the senior bench — symbol of prestige and honor for senior guys only.

The bookstore was the place to go for pencils, erasers, paper, notebooks, mugs, etc. Merry Fleishmann, John Trozzo, Jim Hinkle.

Mr. Downing peered into an empty attendance office as if amazed by its silence.

Debbie Holsinger made an "important" phone call at the pay phones.

Mr. Costa left the office each morning, prepared to help students and keep order in the halls.

The expression on Mrs. Kelvington's face showed that the job of a secretary is not only typing but also deciphering.

There was a guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a boss who made special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a girl who said the announcements and was also supervised by the boss who made the special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. There was a clock that went "tick tock" to signal the girl who said the announcements and was also supervised by the boss who made the special announcements and supervised the guy who said the Pledge every morning at Riverside. And this is the story of the morning announcements at Riverside.

The Guy — Willie Eller.

The Boss — Mr. Brooks.

The Clock — Tick Tock.

The Girl — Anita Nardone.

A variety of expressions and emotions were shown in the faces of passing people.

Mary Sutkowski hammed it up.

At the information desk Larry Honneffer clowned around as Scott Petrak concentrated on his school work.

28-16-42, or was it 26-42-16? The lockers were a very efficient means of frustration. Some required a good swift kick while others just needed tender loving care. After finally discovering the solution, it was a challenge to escape the oncoming barrage of paraphernalia. To find a pencil or a much needed math book, one would have had to rummage through excessive amounts of riff raff.

Ruth Corwin let her inner-self shine through as she paused at her locker.

Marlane Cupac demonstrated what could be done to enliven a drab locker.

Pam Snider happily greeted a friend as she stopped at her locker to prepare for the day's activities.

*A true friend . . .
the best possession . . .*

New friends were acquired at afterschool yearbook meetings.

Friendship was apparent in the smiles of Larry Smith and Lisa Barry.

Monaca Baumgardner and Becky Pasquale danced to the latest hits at the class party.

Kathy Ottaviani celebrated her 18th birthday among her friends in the Senior lounge.

Moods revealed the inner emotions and feelings of a person. They were reflected by the actions and on the faces of individuals. Enthusiasm was expressed boldly while worry and sadness were expressed hesitantly. Whatever the mood of a student, it usually affected not only them but friends and fellow students around them.

Glenn Boots and Chris Borders concentrated on their assignments.

Don Hairhoger paused to reflect on the day's activities.

Dave Grant let loose a healthy yawn during classroom activities.

Mindy Mackenstein cheerfully did her Bookkeeping lessons.

Mark Stronsnider donned sunglasses to observe things in a different light.

Wayne Hall spent a quiet moment in thoughtful meditation.

Water fountains provided vital nourishment.

Sue Yarzebinski returned her tray after eating a hearty meal.

Students stood in line dreaming about the delicious meal they were about to receive.

Lunch period was a time for students to get together and talk as well as a time to eat.

The cafeteria ladies worked hard to prepare an appetizing meal.

Anticipation — waiting for the lunch bell.

Students purchased ice cream and crackers from Mrs. Miloser at lunch.

There always seemed to be room for another studious person at the library.

Louann Fornataro checks in at the library before beginning her work.

Pam Snider pondered over the library's wide selection of literature.

Paula Groth made herself at home in the library.

Although one was quieted, the library often was a place to meet and talk with friends.

Health Suite and Guidance Office

Fearless courage shown in the eyes of Lamar Williams as Miss Carroll tended to his wounds.

Waiting in the health suite could be a frightening experience, but Karen Capello and Charles Santilo passed the time with a comic book.

At the Vocational Guidance Office, students could prepare for future jobs and careers.

Mr. Marziano offered excellent advice to students who needed help with school problems or future plans.

On the fashion front, Riverside students showed individuality in their manner of dress. A variety of styles were present and were displayed in many different ways. They ranged from the nostalgia craze to the far out modern designs where anything went.

Underneath it all were toes!

Farmer jeans were a relaxing attraction to the school wardrobe.

Feet and toes gathered for a wild talk about '75 fashion.

Kathy Ottaviani changed with the season as she donned a halter dress.

Short length dresses were still part of the school-girl scene.

Riverside fans backed the Panthers with SP-IR-IT!

Large crowds of Panther spirit filled the gym at the pep rally before opposing the Monaca Indians at basketball.

Special Activities.

The school year was linked together by outstanding events produced by Riverside High School students. Although experiencing the occasion was exciting, participating in the work and fun of all the hassles that went with the final result seemed to be what made the experience quite delightful and meaningful. However, even though long hours of tedious line rehearsing for plays, ordering a mum for that special girl, and although time was spent to look just right for the prom, only glimpses of these moments were fully captured. And then, one finds these moments are gone before they are noticed.

Dorothy Swick carefully applied make-up to Carrie Boots for dress rehearsal.

Toni Barry as Corrine prepared for the opening night performance of the all school play.

Carrie Boots as Millicent Ames rehearsed with an "invigorated air."

Beth Majors prepared to make her debut as Thermometer Tessie along with her group of hikers.

Tanya Wasilewski as Joan attempted to keep her figure slim and trim.

Anita Nardone and Cheryl Aiken expressed concern over a confining corset.

1974 Homecoming

The football team set the spirit for the Homecoming festivities with a victory over Frew Mill. The coronation took place during halftime. The appropriate theme for the Homecoming Dance was "The Winning Touchdown." Seniors who worked hard at organizing and decorating made it a success for all who attended.

Crown bearer, Joetta Eonta, crowns queen Patty Vetica.

Jeff Garmen bears the scepter as his date, Mary Jane Cunningham, '74 looks on.

The 1974-75 Homecoming Court, Bonnie Yarzebinski, Joetta Eonta, Sherree Brown, Patty Vetica, Karen Rowan, and Leslie Vargo went in style to the celebration.

The 1974 Homecoming Court members were: Patty Vetica — queen, Sherree Brown, Joetta Eonta — crown bearer, Leslie Vargo — scepter bearer, Karen Rowan, Bonnie Yarzebinski.

Patty Vetica reigned as 1974 Homecoming Queen.

Karen Capello and Don Hairhoger enjoyed dancing to music provided by Rinky Dink.

Terri Tomsic enjoys a tasty Hoedown refreshment.

Bill Taylor demonstrated his bowling skills for an attentive audience.

Frances Schuller tested her ability at the softball toss as Gerianne Stiggi, Mary Kay Sutkowski, and Karen Jerome observed.

Curt Crawford prepares for an energetic nail hammering sport.

Ron Lee showed his cheerful disposition as he sold brightly designed balloons to passers-by.

Vickie Holmes and escort, Nick Piecuch, look forward to an enjoyable evening.

Karen Jerome and Karen Cassucio bumped the time away.

Students danced to music provided by Ricky Dink.

Coral Petrak joined in the fun at the Midwinter Dance.

Winter Magic; January enchantment.

Donkey Basketball

Don Summa was an active member of the Super Duper Pooper Scoopers.

Tim Graham and Ed Bookamer learned that donkeys have minds of their own.

All the donkey needed was the tender loving care shown by Mary Sutkowski.

Cindy Fritzius made an attempt at a basket while retaining control of her donkey.

Fine Arts Festival

Mike Pasquale used an interesting combination of wood and color to come up with an exhibit for the Art Show.

Craftwork of all kinds was displayed at the Art Festival.

Mike Thompson and Lynne Kaelin viewed the Art Show during a free period.

Mrs. Milburn and Mrs. Pezzulo conversed on the many finished pieces of art.

The 1975 Prom — Oriental Gardens.

1975 Prom Court: Sherree Brown, Joetta Eonta — crown bearer, Kris Daufen, Becky Pasquale, Leslie Vargo — queen, Coral Petrak, Lynn Simon, Bonnie Yarzebinski, Patty McDonald.

Pages, Miss Amy Mackenstein and Master Sam Barry, walked arm in arm as they prepared to serve the 1975 prom queen.

Oriental Gardens, the setting for the 1975 prom, proved to be one of the most outstanding proms at Riverside. Upon entering the prom, couples found themselves in a strange, exotic land. Geisha girls and colorful murals added to the reality of this foreign land. Couples then preceded to the post-prom where they enjoyed a night at Monte Carlo. The evening was highlighted by gambling in a replica of a Las Vegas casino where prizes were awarded to the highest winners. Queen Leslie Vargo, reigned over this evening which was a strange mixture of the Orient and Las Vegas. Although the night came and passed all too quickly, it proved to be a time which will always be remembered.

Mindy Mackenstein and Craig Brown pause to view the decorations at the prom.

Couples who attended the 1975 prom, crossed the bridge and found themselves in an Oriental World. Cindy Fritzus, Chuck Mohr, Peggy Fischer and Jeff Bauer.

Thom Cipro and Colleen Zikeli enjoyed themselves as they imagined they were in the Orient.

The Junior Class showed fantastic talent as displayed in the result of the 1975 prom — Oriental Gardens.

After gambling away the hours at the after-prom, Karen Capello, John Trozzo, Kris Daufen, and Mark McCary began to show signs of exhaustion.

Cheryl Swick and Eric Krut were in awe as they walked amid the beauty of the Oriental Gardens.

From the heat of band camp to halftime shows performed for frozen fans at the last football games, the Riverside Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred Perino, proved their quality as marching musicians. Along with the Majorettes, Drill Team, and Color Guard, they added spirit and enthusiasm to every football game.

The band also showed their style in various parades at Ambridge, Beaver Falls, and Ellwood City. The Wind Ensemble performed with the choir at the annual Christmas Concert and combined with the Concert Band to present the Spring Concert.

The Junior High bands were under the direction of Mr. Michael Poff. They displayed their talents in the Christmas and Spring concerts. Marching in Ellwood City prepared them for Sr. High.

To end the year on a high note, the Marching Band attended the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia.

John Trozzo exemplified the patience and devotion that went into every selection.

The Pep Band helped to enliven a pep rally on Cowboy Day before the basketball team played the Monaca Indians.

Mr. Poff presented Mr. Kettler with a National Band Booster Award in appreciation for the many ways he helped the band.

Langley, Tom Perkins, Dana Rowlands, Amy Lower.

Eighth grade ensemble entertained vocally.

The choir program at Riverside flourished under the outstanding direction of Mrs. Gladys LeFebvre and Mr. Kenneth Phillips.

Mrs. LeFebvre spent hours with her Seventh and Eighth grade choirs which resulted in fine performances at their Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Mr. Phillips tirelessly led the Ninth Grade Choir, Girls', Choral Union, Concert Choir, and Chamber Singers; all singing without flaw. Their quality was proven at the many assemblies and concerts performed for the community.

One highlight of the year was the musical play, It's Cool in the Furnace, performed by the Concert Choir at various churches and at the Palm Sunday Concert. A great gap was bridged between two long time schools when, on National Music Day, the Concert Choirs from Riverside and Lincoln High School combined to present an exchange concert at the two schools. The Concert Choir made the year complete by raising funds and making a trip to Disney World in Orlando, Florida.

An explosive 1974 season left the Riverside football teams with the best record in the school's football history.

The Varsity football team displayed its "Panther Power" by being undefeated on the home field, and ended their season with four wins and five losses. The Junior High team finished an excellent season by being undefeated. The untiring patience and leadership of the coaches created teams that worked for a common goal — that of good sportsmanship and honest play.

Riverside's football season was characterized by that "never-say-die" attitude and therefore it developed a distinctive pride in Panther football.

Aided by fine blocking, quarterback Rick Brown prepared to "hand-off" the ball to an awaiting teammate.

A fine defensive play was satisfying but fatiguing for guard Dave Hughes.

Tom Bently reveals exultation as the rest of the team signals a touchdown to the anxious crowd.

Good speed and the ability to catch passes made Bill Robbins a threat throughout the season.

Oftentimes the football players were more exuberant than the crowd, as shown by Clem Giancola.

The Mighty Panthers proudly run onto the field amongst the enthusiastic cheers of Riverside students.

The referee signals a touchdown for the fighting Green and White.

Tom Bentley revealed pride and enthusiasm as he scored a touchdown for the JV team.

The Panther defensive line, determined and tensed, was set to stop Bishop Carroll.

Halfback Tony Bentley wisely follows the excellent blocking by Chris Russell.

The determined effort of fullback Bob Taylor paid off with a touchdown.

The defensive strategy of the opposing team was shattered when quarterback Jim Brown burst through for long yardage.

Mike MacMurdo's fine display of nimbleness and the ability to make sharp turns made him a reliable end.

The Golf Team was "up to par."

Although the Riverside Golf Team ended their season with a fine 8-3 overall record, they were still unable to top Ellwood City for the section 10 championship. The top scorers were Mark Marion and Dave Vetica, with Darrell Brown being the lowest average player. Together they aided Ron Lee, Scott Rodgers and Curt Crawford to victory in seven league games. Of the overall 10 league games, the team lost only to the Ellwood City and the New Brighton teams. The team then went on to take 4th place out of twenty in the M.A.C. team championships, which include both Class A and AA schools. Individual achievements included Darrell Brown taking 2nd place in the section qualifier and advancing to the regional qualifer at Lake Arthur Country Club.

The self-pride and unfailing spirit displayed by each member of the cross country team led them to finish the season with a record of 8 wins and 5 losses. Hard work, determination, and long practices were keys to the successful season. The squad made a fine showing of 3rd place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference and 10th in the W.P.I.A.L. One of the top letterman, Glenn Walsh, was undefeated in dual meets and the winner of the M.A.C. Championship. His biggest achievement was placing 2nd in the W.P.I.A.L. Class B, which led him to place 21st in state finals.

A tired but content look shown on the face of Coach Miller, which revealed the fine achievements of the team.

Riverside's top runner, Glenn Walsh, exhibited uniform motion while using every ounce of energy to set a record.

Neil Donley displayed individual effort.

The Varsity Basketball Team started their season out with an undefeated exhibition season. The team's 8-0 record was broken during a close game with Western Beaver. Even with the loss of Art Kunkle the team still played up to par. High scorer for the season was Dave Vetica, based on average per game. The Varsity squad captured third place in Section 17-B with an overall record of 16-6. The Junior Varsity squad played to an 18-

2 season record, losing only to Rochester and Monaca. The Junior High Team went all the way to the top to take the Section 10 Championship, a first in R.H.S. Jr. High history. The team went up against tough opposition but still managed to pull through to win the Mohawk Junior High Post-Season Tournament.

The coaches for the 74-75 basketball season were Mr. North, Mr. Miller, Mr. Fisher, and Mr. Rak.

A tired Joe Bell keeps a weary eye on the opposition.

Swim Team captured 1st place at the Beaver County Invitational Meet, and finished 2nd at the M.A.C. Championship Meet.

Not only were they winning, the boys were breaking records. Senior captain Bill Milburn set three school records in 200 individual medley, 50 yard free style, and 100 yard free style. Bill also set two pool records in the 50 and 100 yard free style along with being undefeated in those two events in his senior year. In Tim Kelley's junior and senior swimming seasons, he was undefeated in 100 yard backstroke. Not only did Jim Spratt set a new 500 yard free style record, but he also was undefeated in section competition in this event. The old 400 yard free style relay school record was broken by Tim Kelley, Captain Bill Milburn, Jim Spratt, and Co-captain Brian Anderson.

Each year the Panther track team runs one step forward, jumps one foot higher, strives a little more towards success. This year has been no exception.

Unity and cooperation, yet the individualism in giving the best in each event, led the Panthers to second place in the M.A.C. competition and a 6-3 duel record. Jeff Reeder's ability as top point man on the '75 Panther team, his stability in the 880 relay and being one of the areas top 220 men gave him the qualifications to receive the outstanding trackman award this year. Other honorable accomplishments came to the Panthers. In honor of Punky Kuner's outstanding track ability, moreover his perfect team member attitude, Jim Oliver received the Punky Kuner Award for his special encouragement and dedication to the sport and team members.

Glenn Walsh surpassed Bob Wright's two mile record. All this was accomplished not only with each individual effort but was accompanied by cooperation and leadership of team captains and coaches George and Zahn.

The baseball team ended its pre-season with a 7-2 record and high hopes for a section championship. The team started off right by winning its opener with Shenango, but then turned around and lost its next game to Wilmington.

Hopes soared as the team won its next five games, but then lost an important game to Shenango in the last inning.

The section race was close as first place changed hands many times. Then the hope for winning the section was shattered when a "must" game with Union was lost.

The Panthers ended a disappointing season with an overall 16-7 won-loss record and a 3rd place in the section.

Cheerleaders — the nucleus of school spirit.

Riverside's cheerleaders were the backbone of school spirit. They exhibited the enthusiasm and devotion essential to the success of a cheering squad. The cheerleaders diligently prepared cheers for each game and pep rally. The girls sold mums for homecoming and senior night, and made signs and posters for the halls and for the gym.

Mari Douglass and Lori Stacy cheer enthusiastically at a varsity game.

Always confident of a victory the cheerleaders swung into the football field.

The cheering sponsors were Mrs. Wasilewski and Miss Yanniello.

Not only cheering at athletic events, the cheerleaders aroused school spirit at a pep rally by dressing as cowboys to defeat the Monaca Indians.

Mummey — coach, Lori Hetrick, Diane Spiker, Diane McConahy, Bobbi Jo Kelvington, Tanya Wasilewski, Tammy Higgins, Beth Fry.

The Girl's Basketball Team may have shown femininity in the halls, but when it came to playing basketball, skills were displayed. Lori Hetrick and Cheryl Hummel, co-captains, led the girls to a surprising 7-3 finish. Diane McConahy averaged over 10 points per game with a single game high of 24 points. A well deserved Most Valuable Player Award went to Cindy Magargee. Along with the influence of Miss Mummey, unity and spirit were key factors which led the girls to finish 2nd in the Tri-County League.

Coach Mummey set the pace for the team and often molded future stars.

On the court, Cheryl Hummel revealed another side of her easy-going character.

Cindy Magargee and Beth Fry patiently waited, confident they would get the rebound.

The hours of training and quick judgement made Monaca Baumgardner nimble on the court.

Lori Hetrick showed her style, which proved effective for the Pantherettes.

The Green Marlins perfected many strokes after long hours of practices which proved to be an asset to the team. Beating the clock was the name of the game and mere seconds could show a difference in placement. The Most Outstanding Green Marlin was Denise Ostrom, aided by Lisa Alberth who received the Leadership Award for 74-75. Under Mrs. Gilkey's careful coaching the Girls' Swim Team closed with a 4-7 record after swimming against tough opposition.

The Coach for the girl's swim team was Mrs. Gilkey.

Coach Gilkey could always be found giving moral support to her team.

While the swimmers anticipated the sound of the starting gun, the remaining Green Marlins awaited their turn.

After swimming a tiring event Terri Tincani gratefully accepted a helping hand from Karen Shoaf.

Marie Gibbons concentrated on her strategy for the swim meet.

Lore Carbeau cheered her teammate Chris Barendsfield.

Education — essential for modern living.

In a search of bettering the education of the students in the Riverside Beaver County School District, the Riverside School Board worked at its job effectively and well. Included in their work was consenting field trips in which students gained well-rounded experience. During the 1974-75 school year the Riverside School Board worked to obtain the highest quality of education. By promoting the future middle school, the school board aided in giving young students an opportunity for a more complete education. And they were certainly proud when it came to giving student recommendations for the fine students of Riverside.

Dr. Michael Carcaise and Mr. Kenneth Yonkee turned the first spade of dirt for the new middle school, as others witnessed the event.

Personnel assistance doubled students' efforts.

Betterment of Riverside High School and its students was the aim of the 1974-75 Riverside Administration.

They enforced rules with the well-being of students in mind. They offered opportunities of fun and education to broaden the students interests and learning. And all their energy was pointed in the direction of the improvement of Riverside and its education.

Contemplation Riverside at work.

During the 1974-75 school year, the faculty at Riverside High School was comprised of dedicated and enthusiastic human beings. They were willing to give a part of themselves in order to develop the hidden potentials of their students and were always around to lend a helping hand. In times of crisis the faculty found ways to stay on top of the situation and somehow always found time to portray a friendly smile.

Beth Majors pauses during a hectic day.

Donny Williams remained calm while finishing a project for his after school photography class.

With involvement being the goal of Juniors, Donna McMichael expressed herself in the Pathfinder.

After using all her energy cheering for the basketball team, Junior Cindy Bradshaw replenishes herself at half-time.

The Senior Class Officers were Patty Vetica — treasurer, Mr. Davis — sponsor, Mary Ann DiBiagio — president, Lee Sutherland — secretary, Leslie Vargo — vice-president.

The Class of 1975

The final year unfolded and the months passed to just days and the days to just seconds as the seniors prepared to say good-bye and go their own separate ways. The "Senior Year" that everyone had so anxiously looked forward to for so many years was now nearly gone. But only the days were gone, for the good times throughout the year and the memories of the dinner dance, the prom, and even senior skip day would remain with each and every senior for the rest of their lives. It was a time of mixed emotions as graduation drew the year to a close with the seniors working together as a class for the final time. Truly moments are gone before they are noticed and now all that remains is a time for remembering.

. . . an evening to remember.

Pam Anderson flashes a smile at the Senior Dinner Dance.

The Senior Dinner Dance was truly an evening to remember. The Holiday Inn in New Castle was the setting for a very enjoyable evening. Seniors and their guests enjoyed an Italian meal and afterwards danced to the sound of "Coconut". Although the mood was lighthearted, there was a touch of sadness as it would be the seniors' final social event.

Seniors and their guests enjoyed a delicious dinner.

As part of the festivities, Seniors danced '75 style.

As secretary of the Senior Class, Lee Sutherland did her part in making the Senior Dinner Dance an enjoyable one.

*Unity, yet originality;
the mast
for the Class of '75.*

Graduates went forth to receive their diplomas.

The theme, "A portrait of an individual", was portrayed well by Rose Demark.

Cindy Haswell received congratulations upon her accomplishment.

Seniors left with tear filled eyes led by assistant principals, Mr. Dennis Barto and Mr. Donald Costa.

The Graduation ceremony was viewed by family and friends.

Connie Brown flashed a smile as she received her diploma.

Riverside High School students began as 7th graders full of joy and laughter. We went through our years at Riverside reaching and grasping for that far off goal, whatever it was to be. We grew and learned, yet we went through life day after day letting so many things slip through our fingers unrecognized. The emotions we experienced and the dreams fantasized were once again left to drift off into the future as forgotten happenings. Yet pausing for one short second, we looked back for the last time on the moments that were gone before they were noticed.
